Many thanks for the info. I certainly owe you a beer the next time I am in Germany or you are in the USA.

Incidentally, I went to look at a new V10 tdi at a local dealer yesterday. It will cost me my V8 plus $22,000. VW has priced the V10 about $12,000 above the V8 here in the USA and my V8 has 17,000 miles and is 10 months old. I am seriously considering moving up into the car.
