

Speed regulator

Beitrag von „jms admin“ vom 6. September 2006 um 07:50

The speed regulator reacts in a way surprising, once fixed on speed chosen, it controls without problem on the desired speed, but as soon as the road goes up, the regulation is much less ideal since it lets speed then lower significantly then accelère for sometimes exceeding desired speed. Accustomed to the regulators, I am surprised by this behavior. Did you live of the similar experiments?

Si vous voulez répondre en français, ne vous privez pas 